

Spendrups' Environmental Policy

Spendrups' environmental policy seeks to contribute to an ecologically sustainable society. We try to keep a step ahead of environmental legislation. Our impetus is a desire to minimize strains on the environment by continuously improving our performance.

Our Focus

We place a special emphasis on minimizing climate impact and optimizing our use of natural resources, taking into account a life cycle perspective. We work to ensure that environmentally friendly goods and services are used to the greatest possible extent.

Systematic approach

We analyse our environment, our impact on it, and risks and possibilities related to it. On the basis of such analyses, we set ourselves goals, formulate action plans and devise routines for assessing and improving our environmental performance.

Taking a cautious approach

When taking decisions pertaining to our business and operations, we put a premium on caution, and work to minimize injuries and liabilities for people's health or the environment.

Environmental Competence

We consider it our responsibility to ensure that our employees receive sufficient information, training and resources to be able to take responsibility for any environment issues their work might entail.

Transparency

We pursue continual dialogue about our work for the environment with our stakeholders, and we make sure that accurate information is always available.
